Schools Could Lose Identity In Merger

By Marjorie Parker

(This is the last in a series of articles on problems and possibilities of combining the Sierra Madre and Pasadena Elementary School Districts.)

Opposition to the proposal that the Sierra Madre Elementary School District be unified with the Pasadena District was voiced by many Sierra Madreans this week.

The annexation proposal was set forth in last week's News by industrial engineer John A. Dewar, 154 Santa Anita Ct., who has been active in school problems for the past several years.

The Sierra Madre Co-ordinating Council will sponsor an open meeting and panel discussion Tuesday, July 9, on possibilities of annexation of Sierra Madre's Elementary School District with Pasadena.

Dr. Paul Narcowich, council president, announced yesterday that the meeting would be held at the City School, either in Room 12 or the cafeteria. Speakers will be announced next week.

Strongest feeling against losing local control of the two city schools was based on what Dr. Milton Valois, former School Board president, termed, "the intangibles that make us want to live in this community."

"INTEREST in schools and concern for good basic education are a part of a grass roots psychology," Dr. Valois said. "We wouldn't be living here if we didn't want that part of community life. We need the responsibility of guiding our children's schooling, to annex to Pasadena would mean loss of our voice in school government."

E. Waldo Ward, school board president during early years of the district, said:

"I would hate to see Sierra Madre join the Pasadena District. For the saving of a few dollars we would lose self-government. We would have less consideration from the Pasadena School Board, less response to our own needs. Anything that tends toward centralized government, I oppose. I believe in home rule."

Another concerned citizen pointed out that annexation would not give Sierra Madre any guarantee that the city would have representation on the Pasadena School Board. Board members are voted on by the entire unified district, making it difficult for Sierra Madreans to vote in a local resident.

THERE would be, of course, no way for Sierra Madre to join the Pasadena District and then dictate what seemed to be the best interest of this community, many persons felt.

For instance, Sierra Madre right now needs additional classrooms at Sierra Mesa school. To raise the bond issue for such building, the entire unified district would have to vote. If the issue failed to pass, then the Pasadena School Board could decide on double sessions for our schools or even the transporting of students to Pasadena schools not filled to capacity.

The Don Benito and Eugene Field Schools in neighboring Hastings Ranch have both been on double sessions in the past.

Questions were directed by residents to Mr. Dewar's contention that economy would dictate eventual annexation to the neighboring district.

Sierra Madre now pays an elementary school tax rate of $1.482, plus a bond rate of $0.2592 or a total elementary tax and bond rate of $1.7414. Pasadena pays an elementary rate of $1.5363 plus a bond rate of $1.957 or a total of $1.7320.

THE HITCH is that Sierra Madre would have to continue to carry liability for its own existing bonded indebtedness and would be liable for payment on Pasadena bonds which had not been sold at the time of annexation. In other words, although Sierra Madreans would not have voted on a previous Pasadena district bond issue, they would have to pay for any portion of that issue still outstanding.

A slight tongue-in-cheek attitude met Mr. Dewar's long list of special services which would be provided to local schools if Sierra Madre were to annex.

Are those special services actually available or are they still organizational plans and programs that have not yet moved out of the offices? Many parents believe that Pasadena secondary schooling still lacks sound music, art and counseling services.

It was pointed out that Sierra Madre already utilizes many special services from Los Angeles County School District. The School Board, at its Monday meeting, announced that additional services in counseling will be available for the fall session.

School Board members voiced the hope that an opportunity for Sierra Madre citizens to discuss both sides of possible annexation would be provided. Soon.

Announce New Storm Drain Plan

A new construction schedule for the Baldwin Ave. storm drain was set up Monday by City Administrator L. C. Bevington to keep downtown streets open to traffic and minimize business losses during the excavation period.

Contractors have agreed to bring present excavation work up to a point just south of Suffolk Ave. by approximately July 1.

DURING July, excavation operations will cease to allow concrete work to catch up. The shutdown period will last about 30 days.

At the end of that period the contractor will start excavation again and continue north. Thus construction work through the business district will take place during August. Completion date on the channel is Nov. 1.

Efforts also are being made to plan a construction operation through the business district which will allow traffic to use both sides of Baldwin during the maximum period possible.

It will be necessary to close portions of the street during actual excavation operation, but it is planned to have the street open during much of the construction work, according to Mr. Bevington.

Adequate dust control measures have been stated in construction specifications. With aid of property owners, it is hoped that dust will be held to a minimum.

Contractors for the storm drain channel are the E. A. Irish Co. and the Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army.

School Group Urges Full Building Plan

Smokers Pay High Penalty In Forest

Violations of smoking regulations in the national forest landed two persons in court this week, according to the report of Angeles Forest Supervisor R. F. Droege.

Ronald S. Barnowski, 3747 Honolulu Avenue, La Crescenta, was free on $500 bail after being apprehended by Ranger Jack Tice for failure to heed the "No Smoking When Traveling" regulation. Judith Ann Coleman, 233 Hillside Drive, Pasadena, was issued a notice of violating the same law by Ranger Robert Alvord.

Droege said both violations occurred on the Angeles Crest Highway which runs through some of the most valuable and highly inflammable watershed areas in the Los Angeles Basin.

Coy Dean Pennington, 458 East Redondo Blvd., Gardena, was apprehended after cutting a 10-foot tall yucca bloom near the Switzer Campground. Pennington was required to post $250 bail after the court heard the complaint issued by Ranger Tice.

Droege pointed out that rangers are charged with the duty of enforcing all protective regulations in the national forests.

Readers Club, Junior Grade, Ready July 5

All boys and girls in the second grade or up are invited to join the Smoky Bear Reading Club at the Library this summer. Beginning July 5, it will meet every Friday afternoon from 1:30 to 5 o'clock, through August 23. Everyone who reads 10 books and reports on them becomes an official member of the California Junior Forest Rangers.

Bethany Sets Dedication This Sunday

The Service of Dedication for Bethany Church will be conducted this coming Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Among those present will be representatives of the Pasadena Association of Evangelical Churches, the Sierra Madre Ministerial Association, the City of Sierra Madre, California Christian Endeavor Union and the National Association of Evangelicals. Members of the church, including the chairmen of boards and committees, will participate.

It is anticipated that the entire amount necessary for the final payment on the cost of construction will be secured by the time of the dedication service. The new seats for the auditorium are to be installed this week.

Dr. Robert Schaper, will continue his series of messages on 1 Corinthians 13 during the morning service. The Vacation Bible School will have its graduation program at 7 o'clock Sunday evening.

A victory dinner honoring members of the church who have participated actively in the building program, and a quarterly business meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 6:45 p.m.

The Dodgers Are Still Bums Here

The Brooklyn Dodgers may be kings to L.A. Mayor Norris Poulson but they're still bums to the City Council.

Mayor Poulson in a telegram urged the Council to pass a resolution asking the Dodgers to come home to L.A. immediately, if not sooner.

"Well, I like baseball," said Councilman Herbert Harrison.

"So do I," said Councilman Harold Roberts. "But are they going to build a stadium for private enterprise with public funds?"

"Ditto," said Mayor Charles H. James.

With that Mayor Poulson's message was confined to the files.

IN OTHER action, the Council:

1. Appointed Mrs. Edith Fish to the Library Board to succeed Hugh Colvin who resigned. Mrs. Fish is a former president of the Friends of the Library and has been active in civic affairs here for many years. The Council also reappointed Frederick Sprigate to the Library Board.

2. Approved, in effect, the transfer of an on-sale beer license from the Sierra Cafe to Lawrence A. Twedell and Roland M. Brandt, who plan to operate the cafe on Sierra Madre Blvd. under a different name.

Police Chief Gordon McMillan, who in a report to the Council approved the transfer, pointed out that Lawrence Twedell is the son of Police Officer Arthur Twedell.

"Because of the type of business involved," the police chief reported, "and its location within the jurisdiction of the Police Department, it would be contrary to good police administrative principles and policies for such a relationship to exist between a licensee and a policeman of this department."

Chief McMillan said he has discussed the matter with Mr. Twedell who has decided to resign when the license is transferred.

3. Reappointed Miss Elizabeth Steinberger and William Listle to four-year terms on

Additions to Sierra Mesa Held Vital

A committee recommended to the Board of Education Monday night that the entire school construction plan be carried out. The additions to the Sierra Mesa School are expected to cost about $290,000.

Members of the committee, which met about 10 days ago, are Kenneth Bush, Newell Barrett, Hugh Colvin, all School Board members; Dr. Lowell Jackson, new school superintendent, and Charles A. Skutt, former superintendent.

First Concert Of S.M. Band Begins Friday

The first summer concert of the Sierra Madre Band begins tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in City Park. The concerts are free and everyone welcome.

Included in the evening's program will be the famous marches, "Gloria," "Our Director," "Washington Post" and the "Showman."

Guest director for two groups of numbers will be Robert Fluery, director of the Pasadena City College Lancer Band and the Gold Shell Band. Walter R. Laursen, regular band director, will conduct the remainder of the program.

The concerts of July 12 and 26 will feature the combined Sierra Madre and Pasadena Gold Shell Bands of 75 musicians under direction of Mr. Fluery and Mr. Laursen.

Historical Society Sets July 18 Tour

The Sierra Madre Historical Society will sponsor a guided tour of the County Arboretum in Arcadia, July 18, to leave the entrance gate at 10 a.m.

There is no charge for the tour, but the party is limited to 50 and reservations should be made in advance by calling Dick Lees, ELgin 5-7196 or Mrs. Helen Hutton, ELgin 5-9808.

Transportation to the Arboretum will be provided by Society members, leaving the downtown triangle at 9:30 a.m.

At the Society's regular board meeting held last week at the home of president Mrs. H. Randolph Wood, plans were formulated for issuing historical information forms.

Members will be asked for their biographies and accounts of historical events. These will be kept in the group's files at the Public Library.

The Society hopes to place historical markers at the foot of the old Mt. Wilson Trail and at the first frame house built in Sierra Madre, according to Mrs. Wood.

MAYOR CHARLES H. JAMES and Robert Green, president of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, affix their fingerprints in wet concrete at the re-opening of the Sierra Madre Theater. Their prints will not be immortal, since they were immediately loused up by admiring small fry. The theater re-opened last Friday.

All-Night Poker Game Nets New Client for Bank

Five thousand dollars in crumpled $100 bills arrived through the mail Monday addressed to Gibraltar Savings and Loan Association of Beverly Hills with no hint as to the identity of the sender.

Yesterday the mystery was cleared up when a customer walked in, claimed the money and opened a savings account. It seems that he'd been in an all-night poker game and a succession of full-houses and royal flushes had consistently put him on the right side of the kitty.

Stepping outside for a moment, he stuffed $5,000 of his winnings in an envelope, scrawled the address of Gibraltar Savings on it and dropped it into the nearest mailbox.

Then he went straight back to the game.

Woman's Club Sponsors Bowl Bus Ride

The Sierra Madre Woman's Club is sponsoring a Hollywood Bowl Concert bus trip on July 13 for the Rodgers and Hammerstein program. Bus trips from the downtown triangle already are sponsored for three other programs during the season.

Reservations may be made with Carl Engle of the Music Shop or with Mrs. Arthur Howard, Mrs. Carl Hansen, Mrs. Noren Eaton and Miss Clara Sykes.

CHAMBER MOVES

Offices of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce will be moved, effective July 1, from their present location at 94 N. Baldwin to 64 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

GUY ROSSL, assistant postmaster here, awards safe driving certificates to Dan Daniels, who has driven for two years without an accident, and Edward McCloskey, who received a five-year pin.

Editorial

Don't Cloud the Issue

Sierra Madreans, undoubtedly, will in the near future have to vote on a sizeable bond issue if we hope to keep up with our growing school population.

Whether the bond issue passes may well hinge on the amount of feeling generated over the possibility of Sierra Madre joining the Pasadena Elementary School District.

Between now and the date of the bond election, voters should be made completely aware of the arguments for and against annexation. We have tried to present some of these arguments in the series of articles that are concluded this week in The Sierra Madre News.

As the articles pointed out, there are good arguments on both sides. It's possible that annexation is inevitable—in 10 or 15 years.

But the likelihood of joining Pasadena in the distant future is not going to help the situation now. We will still need the new classrooms and all-purpose room, not in 10 or 15 years but almost immediately.

Judging by current public opinion, the possibility of Sierra Madreans voting to become part of the Pasadena district is remote at this time.

Even if staying independent costs us more money—and that's debatable—most people here seem to feel that we should retain our identity as an independent city. E. Waldo Ward, a former School Board president, appeared to sum up the majority opinion when he said:

"I would hate to see Sierra Madre join the Pasadena district. For the saving of a few dollars we would lose self-government. We would have less consideration from the Pasadena School Board, less response to our own needs. Anything that tends toward centralized government, I oppose. I believe in home rule.

We agree with Mr. Ward, at least at the present time. Perhaps future annexation is inevitable. But we shouldn't let some distant goal which may never materialize affect our thinking on the immediate need for additional school facilities in Sierra Madre.—H.W.E.

Mr. Hiestand Demurs

Mr. Edgar W. Hiestand, 21st District congressman and a staunch member of the GOP, is waxing indignantly this week over recent rulings of the Supreme Court.

He's particularly concerned over the Court decision which freed five California Communists and ordered new trials for nine others.

Mr. Hiestand beclouds the issue by implying that only the Communists and fellow travelers are jubilant, when actually the Court's decision in this case and in other recent ones merely reaffirms traditional liberties which before the rise of McCarthyism were taken for granted.

Our Constitution is supposed to protect the rights of everyone alike, even of those who espouse ideas most of us abhor. Mr. Hiestand, I believe, is thinking most undemocratically when he implies that Constitutional guarantees should be granted only to those with whom he agrees, at least most of the time.

At the risk of belaboring the issue, it might be well to point out that two of the Supreme Court justices who voted with the majority in the Communist case are Eisenhower appointees—Chief Justice Warren and Justice Brennan.

The only member of the Court that dissented is Justice Tom Clark, a Truman appointee and former attorney general.—H.W.E.

Recent Supreme Court Ruling 'Hard to Take'

By Edgar W. Hiestand, Rep., 21st District

For those of us who grew up in the tradition that everything done by the Supreme Court is sacred, some of the Court's recent rulings have been hard to take.

Even more upsetting is the jubilation shown by Communists on the East and West Coasts over the decision which freed five California Communists and ordered new trials for nine others. Repetitions have been felt all through Congress.

There's strong feeling here that the Supreme Court has overstepped the authority granted it by the Constitution. The feeling hinges on a belief that the Court has set itself up as knowing more about what Congress needs to know to write laws than the Congress thinks it needs to know.

Now that the Court has ruled that Congress must list the particulars that it wishes to obtain in questioning witnesses, and must tell why it wants such particulars, the question arises as to what happens to the various investigating committees. Do they close shop, or do they continue to hold their investigations and face the wrath of the Court?

It's hard to tell until a specific case occurs, but indications are that by one sweeping decision the Court has given free reign to chisellers, crooks and racketeers in both business and in labor, as well as to Communists working to overthrow the very system that protects them.

By protecting the sanctity and the freedom of the individual, it would seem that the Court has threatened the collective sanctity and freedom of all individuals.

WHAT CAN Congress do? It can introduce bills, of course, but under the current congressional structure there is little chance of getting them enacted into law. For example, Right after the Court ruled that the FBI must make its evidence available to witnesses and defendants before trial (or not introduce such evidence), Rep. Francis E. Walter (D.-Pa.), chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee and a veteran of 13 terms in the House, introduced a bill aimed at counteracting the effect of the ruling.

But frankly, his bill does not stand a chance of passage. The chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Emanuel Celler (D.-N.Y.), will not schedule it for hearing and his stacked committee won't override him. It's doubtful that the House could organize to have the bill brought directly to the floor, which is the only other way it could be acted upon.

So-called "liberals" in Congress are happy with the Court's decision to the extent that it protects the individual, while at the same time they are unhappy because the decision clouds the "right to know" which Congress must have in order to pass good, fair laws for the vast majority of citizens. The joy of Communists and pinkies makes it difficult for so-called "liberals" to stand up and cheer, too, and they are in a quandary as to where to go.

TO THE END that Congress should not pre-empt the rights of states, I have introduced two bills (H.R. 679 and H.R. 6567). The bills specify that when a state has passed a law in one field, that a later law passed by the federal government would not invalidate the state law, unless the act of the Congress contains a provision to that effect.

Around the Square

By Marjorie Parker

When the thermometer and the jacaranda bloom, time has come for the light touch in living—time for dallying—even dillying.

A couple of dillies which persuade one into a less exacting pattern of life appeared this week. One, a column of a metropolitan daily, advised its readers to take up "intellectual pursuits."

How amiable, how jocular it sounds to go out and pursue something, especially in the warm weather. Where "pursue" has about it a set jaw and narrowed eye, "pursue" is definitely of the chase lounge and the book sliding unread to the patio floor.

The next happy indication of growing ease came in the mail. A short note from the Quaker International House at UCLA announced that a summer program committee had planned a "weakly program of group discussion."

What rare insight into the mood of the committee members! What perception to realize that this is no longer the weather for verbal badminton, for rushing back and forth batting at somebody's uncivil liberty.

And how easily a weakly program can be carried out from that same chaise longue where one is persuing things of intellect.

THE HAPPY days are here. Relax. Your friends are relaxed. The children are relaxing in somebody else's swimming pool. The dog is relaxed in the cool hole he dug in the garden, but don't give that a thought, for after the past heat wave even the garden is relaxed. In fact, it is dead. But it will revive by chrysanthemum time and that's a 1-o-o-ong way off.

THREE YOUNG Sierra Madreans already are way ahead on leading the happy life. Phillip McWade, 13, Robert, 12, and John, 14, Quarstrom have built themselves a Hawaiian hut on the Quarstrom plantation on N. Canyon.

The hut is built of woven palm fronds and roofed against occasional dew. In it are a radio, lamp, fan, portable ice-box and pin-ups. It is a retreat from everything, especially the sharp parental whistle. It is Hawaii before Capt. James Cook loomed on the horizon.

To get into this sanctum it is necessary to creep in on hands and knees through a small aperture while giving the pass word Okole Maluna, Or, to translate from Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

The doctor who treated a child charged $1,500. Fair enough. If the doctor's time is worth $40 an hour, as he says it is, the advertising must have been worth $30,000 to him. Deduct $1,500 and he owes the child $28,500.

EVERY SUMMER for many years the Red Cross chapter here has conducted six weeks of water safety instruction, from swimming to life saving. In this area where everybody goes to a beach or mountain lake frequently, where more small boats are owned than in any other area and there are more home swimming pools, any one who deprives his children of such an opportunity to learn to save himself and others in case of any accident in water is taking a chance he may terribly regret.

The water safety course is one of the many great services the Red Cross renders. But this year the course may WHAT DO YOU THINK ?? have to be curtailed unless the last desperate effort to make the Red Cross drive reach its quota wakes up some of the good people who, this year, have got so involved with other things that they have not yet done their duty by the Red Cross. Let's not let our youngsters down.

HERE'S something else to worry about. The Red Cross Blood Bank a few weeks ago had to decline the blood of the polynesian, Bottoms Up. Happy, no?

AND IF you are having trouble letting go, here are a couple of hints. The book that is going to slide off the chaise lounge unread might very well be "The Chemical Revolution: Planetary Astronomy in the Development of Western Thought."

It just came out and might as well go back in for all of you. But the book to keep beside you is James Thurber's "The Wonderful O" which concerns a ship owner who hated O because his mother had become wedged in a porthole and they couldn't pull her in so they pushed her out.

When he conquers an island he bans the O and confusin and chas reign. A man named Otto Ott, when asked his name, could only stutter and Ophelia Oliver was ashamed.

It's a wonderful bk and should be persued in yur weakly prgram.

46 would-be donors, most of them somewhat younger than the average blood donor. Never before had so many persons failed to meet the health requirements of a Blood Bank here, and the percentage was much higher than heretofore. Probably all of the 46 were surprised and shocked, but the incident proves two things. The Blood Bank doctors are careful not to take blood from those who cannot safely give it, and 46 of our neighbors who thought they were physically fit have received warnings which may save them from future ill health. But one wonders what is the matter. Are some of our young women dieting too much or overtaxing their strength with social activities?

ALL IN ALL, though, when we read of cyclones and floods in other parts of the nation, we who live in this favored area should praise the Lord and pass the ammunition, as the wartime song put it—pass along some ammunition to those who have suffered what we have escaped. Wholly unexpected flood and tornado disasters have cost the American Red Cross more than $50,000,000 this year.

SEEMS to me the best argument against capital punishment is that it's a lot too good for some persons, such as sex-pervert murderers of children and young women. They should be boiled in oil over a slow fire until they die from natural causes.

INCIDENTALLY, school vacations always remind us that parents too absorbed in their own business or social affairs to give their children the attention they should be often accessories before the fact in cases of delinquency.

A BIG league baseball franchise is worth several million dollars. Last week the paid attendance at games played by the Brooklyn Bums must have brought in about $150,000. I can't blame a team known as the Bums from wanting to become known as the Angels, but subsidizing any private enterprise venture as profitable as that seems to me as bad as writing off $87,000,000 in taxes on the Hell's Canyon Dam promoters—or, at least, nearly as bad. And I love baseball.

Motorists who get safely through the weekend have a fairly good chance to last the rest of the week.

Letters to the Editor Column

RETURN OF STREET CAR

Dear Sir:

With Fred Edmund's "Buses Are for the Birds," (S.M. News, p. 2, June 6, '57) I heartily agree; but since there are about 2,000,000 of us motorless "birds" in our traffic-congested Southland who must somehow ride the buses to get to where we want to go, it is heartening to hear increasing rumors that street cars are coming back in the East.

Popular pressures here in Los Angeles county—and the all-powerful profit motive—may start a movement for our own return to the more comfortable and efficient electric transportation much sooner than we are now aware.

Ask the man next to you why the change from electric cars to gasoline buses was made in the first place, and he may tell you it was promised that: 1. Buses would come right up to the curb to take you on. 2. Make less noise, with no grinding in transit. 3. Do away with the necessity for tracks, and thus service more streets in each town. 4. Be somehow more comfortable than street cars.

The results have not all been favorable. Buses arrive and glide away again without a sound or a pause to accommodate the split-minute tardiness of a would-be customer or to make a hoped-for connection at a connection point with another line. We miss the gong that called: "Hurry up, we're waiting for you!"—and did. Buses do make much less noise and plenty of unpalatable gas fumes for rear-seat passengers. Doing away with tracks has increased the chance of collision between the public and the private conveyance, with greater risk of injury to bus passengers by collision with a private automobile.

With rapid growth of population, larger areas than ever are now without public transportation, and bus stops in some cases are wider apart than were those of the street cars. Night service by bus from the city has become doubly inconvenient for anybody, and quite useless for theater or opera goers.

As for comfort, "It is to laugh!"—as the French say. The bus seats are narrower for two passengers and the law allows greater packing in per cubic foot of humans than was the case with street cars. Instead of the "grinding," we now have the joggling of the bus that eliminates for many people the former reading of the morning paper, and the attempted ventilation of all except the original Asbury line buses is an excessively uncomfortable joke, simply because the windows are stupidly arranged to be raised from the passenger's level instead of being lowered from the top to avoid direct draft.

The asserted reason for the change-over from street cars to buses is an amusing tale of high finance which I may offer for a later issue.

Yours for progress

50th Anniversary For F. M. Palmers

Mr. and Mrs. Forest M. Palmer, formerly of 638 Brookside Lane, now making their home in Pasadena at 887 N. Madison, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary last Sunday at a reception in the Burbank home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Palmer.

The Palmers were married in Los Angeles in 1907. Two grandchildren and three great grandchildren helped them celebrate their anniversary.

Always remember that all the knowledge in the world was acquired at the expense of others' burned fingers.

Susie Opens New Shop

Sue Frona Moore, formerly of Susie-Marie, has moved from Sierra Madre Hotel Arcade to 71 N. Baldwin where she will open her shop, "Women's Alterations by Susie," tomorrow.

Mrs. Moore had an alteration shop in Sierra Madre for the past year and earlier lived there for five years. She owned a shop in Honolulu for two years which specialized in custom-made Hawaiian casuals. She also was associated with a shop in Las Vegas.

Mrs. Moore will be assisted by Mary Beringer from Indonesia at her new location.

Edwin Meyer Leaves for Miami

Edwin Meyer, former owner of Meyer TV, left for Miami, Fla., last Sunday to join his wife who left earlier to take care of her father who is ill.

Mr. Meyer sold his business recently to Don Page, who owns two other television outlets, one in Huntington Park and the other in South Pasadena.

Mr. Meyer moved to Sierra Madre from Rochester, N. Y., about 12 years ago and operated Meyer TV for the past six years. He and his family plan to stay in Florida for one year before returning to Sierra Madre.

Everyone starts a vacation in good spirits—but most people come home broke.

Coq Au Vin, Swiss Fondue Are R. L. Walker Favorites

By Toni Maurin—SY. 7-9634

Mrs. Robert L. (Dorothy) Walker, 238 E. Manzanita, got my juices running so with her succulent recipes that I was hardly able to write them down. It is really a crime to enjoy food so much and then have to watch your weight.

Mrs. Walker says that this rich recipe needs very little accompaniment as it is quite filling by itself.

COQ AU VIN

(Serves four or five)
Take one frying chicken or the equivalent in thighs, legs and breasts.

- 3 tbs. butter
- 1/2 lb. salt pork diced
- 1 tbs. minced parsley
- 1 carrot cut in thin rings
- A pinch of thyme
- 1 cup light red dry wine
- 2 tbs. flour
- 8 small pearl onions
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/4 lb. mushrooms
- 1 clove of garlic
- 2 or 3 tbs. brandy

Lightly brown salt pork in melted butter. Cook slowly and watch carefully. Add onions, garlic and carrot and simmer until golden. Remove solids from pan and brown chicken in remaining butter. Then sprinkle chicken with flour, seasoning (salt and pepper to taste) and herbs. Return vegetables and add wine. Cook for 15 or 20 minutes on a fairly hot fire.

During last five minutes add mushrooms and brandy. If you like, a few drops of Kitchen Bouquet may be added to enhance color. This dish may be kept hot in the oven for at least an hour before serving if you desire. Mrs. Walker serves it with a green lettuce salad with a simple dressing and French bread and a very light desert.

THIS NEXT recipe is a national Swiss dish and is served in the center of the table with everyone dipping out of the same server.

SWISS FONDUE

(Meal serving for two. Serves many when used as an hors d'oeuvre.)

- 1/2 lb. natural Swiss cheese shredded or 1/4 lb. natural Swiss cheese and 1/4 lb. New York sharp Cheddar cheese shredded
- 1 1/2 tbs. flour
- 1 cup dry white wine (Chablis or Riesling)
- 3 tbs. Kirshwesser (Cherry Brandy)

1 pinch baking soda

The cooking and serving is most important in this recipe. The Swiss use a porcelain or iron type of server that may be put on top of the stove as well as used as a chafing dish.

Rub the server with clove of garlic. Pour in wine and warm slowly till bubbling slightly but not boiling. Dredge shredded cheese with the flour and add to the warmed wine slowly by handfuls, stirring each addition with a fork until dissolved before adding more. Keep stirring till mixture begins to thicken and bubble slightly and then add pinch of soda and salt and pepper to taste.

Thicken enough by cooking till it will cling well to French bread. Just before serving add Kirshwesser. This is served with French bread cut in cubes. Spear French bread with fork and dip into cheese mixture. This, too, is such a rich dish that a green salad and perhaps a white wine are the only things needed to make it a complete meal.

MRS. WALKER met her husband when she was working at Los Alamos as a technician in the chemistry division. After the war they were married and Dr. Walker returned to Cornell to finish his doctorate. They came to California in 1949 and Dr. Walker has been affiliated with Cal-Tech in the nuclear physics division.

Last year he was granted a Fulbright fellowship to spend nine months in Italy. Mrs. Walker went along with the two children, Jan, who is now 6, and Craig, 8. After the Fulbright fellowship was completed he had a three-month Guggenheim grant which they used traveling around visiting some of the European universities after spending one month in Geneva.

Mrs. Walker was completely taken with Italy, having spent time in both parts of the country. She says that it was all over much too fast and that they are all looking forward to the day when they can return on a trip.

For touring the West...

IT'S FUN TO GO FORD!

Rugged as a Pacific coastline, FORD's the long, low "sculptured beauty" that goes first in the West! From super freeways...across mountain-climbing highways...down twisting, rutted byways... it takes a lot of car to please touring Westerners. But Ford has done it again with a more-rugged-than-ever car that continues to keep Ford first in the West. Just try this Ford for size. And remember, the price is right down at the bottom of the low-priced three. Action-test your favorite Ford.

Congregational Plans All-Church Breakfast Sunday

The Congregational Church will have its annual All-Church Breakfast at Villa Park this coming Sunday, June 30th. Families will provide their own breakfasts with the exception of coffee, which will be served.

It is suggested that families arrive about 8 a.m. or as soon thereafter as possible in order to have breakfast out of the way in time for the worship service in the Park at 9:30.

There will be no church school or 9:30 worship service at the church that morning. Regular service of worship will be held at 11 a.m.

Mr. Lindsay will preach on "Pilgrims Then, and Now," noting the significance of the arrival of "Mayflower II" and the merger of the Congregational Churches with the Evangelical and Reformed Church, both of which events occurred this month.

The Scoreboard . . . Dodgers Collect 18 Runs In Win Over Orioles

By Charles Abbe
DODGERS 18 — ORIOLES 12
If you dislike low score ball games you shouldn't have missed this donnybrook. Bill Coulson's Dodgers ran 10 runs across home plate in the fourth inning on three walks, four Oriole errors and hits by Graham, Gary Nuetzel and Toms, to give them a lead the Orioles couldn't overcome.

Dean Irwin's and Bill Morant's Orioles made a valiant sixth inning comeback, though, and scored six runs on Chavarria's and Lindsay's singles, Spencer's home run (it's a habit with him), plus singles by Coit and Fisher. Dodgers, 18 runs, 9 hits, 7 errors, 9 walks; Orioles, 12 runs, 9 hits, 5 errors, 5 walks.

RED SOX 14 — BRAVES 11
It took Bill Milford's Red Sox to give the Braves their first loss of the season last Thursday at City Park. Just about everyone who came to bat got at least one hit in this free-for-all, which must have set some sort of record for the fewest strikeouts—a total of nine by both teams. The Red Sox's Donnie Dommeyer had the Braves buffed through the third inning, allowing but three hits for three runs, while his teammates collected eight runs off the Braves. The roof nearly blew off in the fourth inning though, when the Braves scored eight runs to nearly tie the game.

Brett relieved Dommeyer in the fifth and Mike Johnson relieved Dave Foxton in the fourth inning.

Red Sox, 14 runs, 10 hits, 8 errors; Braves, 11 runs, 12 hits, 9 errors.

YANKS 6 — INDIANS 0
The Yanks' three hits to the Indians' one plus four walks to two for the Indians, as well as some heads-up base running which caught the Indians asleep, just about tells the story of this game.

Mike Menne pitched his third shutout of the season. Rich Schoren, pitching for the Indians, did a fine job, too, but games can't be won without hits. The Indians' defensive game has improved greatly but not their offense.

Yanks, 6 runs, 3 hits, 3 errors; Indians, 0 runs, 1 hit, 3 errors.

VILLA
VIEWSBy Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

It was such fun last week in the heat wave to see the entire neighborhood change from a quiet sedate street to a buzzing center of activity with people scurrying back and forth from pool to pool, caroling at one another enroute. It went on way into the late evening with the pool lights shimmering in the darkness against the trees, happy carefree voices of children and adults alike, casual meals and a completely relaxed time. Cares seemed to stand still and be put off for a few days as we all enjoyed simple pleasures together.

THIS MIGHT well be construed as Old House Road week as people celebrate birthdays, weddings and homecomings.

JENIFER LACKEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lackey of 1484 Old House Road, celebrated her ninth birthday last Saturday with a sun and swim party for a group of her friends. Among the young ladies attending were June Miller, Sydney Coker, Karen Marshall, Andrea Phelps, Nancy Goldworthy, Kit Armstrong, Alice Philipson, Sherri McArthur, Judy Clark, Chris Chapman, Marjorie Wheaton and Vickie Krugman.

MRS. JOHN Chapman and her daughter, Chrissy, of 1595 Old House Road returned from a rather sudden trip to St. Louis where Mrs. Chapman was with her father when he underwent very satisfactory surgery. She left in the middle of the big Midwestern storm and arrived back in time for our hot weather.

BY WAY of returning, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Philipson of 1485 Old House Road returned last week from a two-week sojourn in the East where Mr. Philipson attended the meetings of the Army, Navy, Air Forces in Chicago. From there they went on to New York for a brief vacation, then to Washington, D.C., and more sightseeing and business and then back to Chicago before returning to California.

MR. AND MRS. H. M. Bucher of 3283 Mesaloe Lane have had hardly a minute to settle down and catch their breath since they returned from Europe. They went up almost immediately to Stanford for their son, Jeffrey Martin's, graduation from law school. He attended Flintbridge Prep. School, then Occidental College, where he was affiliated with the Phi Gammas. He was president this last year of the Phi Delta Phi law fraternity. At present he is attending the California Bar review course in Los Angeles in preparation for taking the bar examination in September. Last week, when they returned, Mrs. Bucher held a tea to introduce Jeffrey's fiancée, Miss Betty Jean Trones, of Minneapolis, to around 35 friends of the family. Betty Jean is a graduate of St. Olaf College and is affiliated with the Gamma Phi Betas. The young couple plan to be married in the latter part of September in Minneapolis.

THOSE PEOPLE who might have wondered what attraction there has been on Barbite might be interested to know that the past two weeks' activity has been swimming lessons at the Anthon pool at 3306 Barbite. There have been dozens of Brownies and Girl Scouts who have been able to participate in the forenoon instructions.

MELISSA MUELLER, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Mueller of 1600 Old House Road, celebrated her fifth birthday with a luncheon last Friday. Among the participants were Trudy Paschal, Jeannie Philipson, Molly Clark, Debbie Maurin, Gretchen Garland, Charlie Goldworthy and Hank Armstrong. Chrissy Chapman and Steve Mueller assisted with the games.

LIVING IT UP, Calypso style, are Dolores and David Zinsmeyer, 3740 Landfair, who won the prize for the best costumes at a recent party at the home of William Caldecott, 3575 Shadow Grove. The party was sponsored by the Hastings Ranch Dance Club.

CF Guild Has Meeting

Members of Hastings Ranch Guild to Cystic Fibrosis Foundation met last evening in the home of Mrs. Charles D. Eldson, 1135 Leonard, for their annual "potluck" supper.

Also included were the associate members and the girls belonging to the Guild's Workshop. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Dominic F. Giangregorio, Mrs. Matthew Slavin III and Mrs. Eugene R. Bode. Mrs. John H. DuBois, program chairman, introduced John Baird who spoke on "Here Comes Beethoven."

Well, it sure was hot there for a few days but it cooled off, much to everyone's relief. I hope you are having fun this summer getting real tan and keeping cool.

Linda Marazzi gave a going away party for Pete Dulbeco a week ago. Pete is going to Europe and will attend school there for a year.

Kathy Alfredo, Doris Cottam, Pam Eastwood, Calvin Sheets, Phil Coney, Joe Signorini, Stan Mate and Bill Northrup attended the send-off.

SHERRY DONAHUE had a beach party last Saturday. The occasion was to celebrate her birthday which was Tuesday, the 25th. They went to Huntington Beach for wave riding, running and dinner of roasted hot dogs.

Laural Kinninger, Susie Raymond, Patsy Hicks, Pam Munson, Marilyn McKenzie, Bonnie Reeve, Jan Lindman, Kriss Jones and Wendy Finkbinder helped celebrate Sherry's 14th birthday.

HELEN HOLMES had a spur-of-the-moment platter party. The kids who danced and had a lot of fun were Susie Cain, Barbara Cain, Judy Skove, Julie Sarmast, Priscilla Watson, Rick Flood, Bill Beffuss, Bill Genthe, Gary Walberger, Dennis Walberger, Dana More, Dick Toohy and Dale Barbour.

BOY SCOUT Troop 377 spent Friday night at Sierra

Madre Villa Park having fun and passing tests. Jimmy Bohmman, Don Cotten, Timmy Doyle, Bob Eichelberger.

Three Teams Hold Perfect Records in Little League

By Charles Ayress

Reds and Yankees jumped into the lead for the second half crown of the Hastings Little League American division while three teams were tied with perfect records in the National.

Meanwhile the winners of the first half have yet to be determined and the tie games holding up the crown have not been played. One tie game was played off in the National Division Sunday when the Beavers edged the Stars, thereby pulling even in the all-important loss column.

Pete Calmer's bat and Mike Ayres' pitching handed the Beavers one of their infrequent losses in an early week 8-3 decision and the Reds completed the week by turning back the Indians on John Kinard's clutch pitching 8-4.

THE YANKEES enjoyed a tremendous 25-run inning to swamp the Indians 33-7 and completed a perfect week by handing the Tigers a 10-2 reversal.

Roger Pancoska's grand slam homer led the Dodgers to a 22-0 shutout over the Tigers, but they lost an earlier decision to the Braves 9-7. This was the second grand slam homer for the Dodgers. Brad Karelius blasted the first in a previous game.

Gardner Swenson's Royals lost seven games in a row before catching fire and turning on their tormentors. They won three in a row before losing out to the Beavers 19-3. The Beavers also decided the Seals 16-9 behind Kim Horn's heavy hitting.

THE ANGELS and Cubs notched perfect records for the week. The Cubs turned back the Stars 8-5 and scored 10 runs in the fourth inning to edge the Red Sox 15-12. Meanwhile the Angels overcame a 9-run deficit to beat the Red Sox 20-13.

In other games the Royals took the Giants 8-5 on the strength of Swenson's and Mortensen's heavy hitting and Espe's home run led the Stars to a 12-10 win over the Seals.

Leffingwells
Host Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Leffingwell Jr., 1245 Leonard, entertained last Saturday at a cocktail party and dinner with a game of bridge rounding out the remainder of the evening.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Caldecott, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Slavin III, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardison, Mr. and Mrs. C. Don Hays and Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Caffee.

Wendy Shiner Marks Birthday

Wendy Shiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Shiner, 1200 Tropical, celebrated her seventh birthday anniversary last Friday.

The guests arrived and were taken to a local miniature golf course for a "fast round." They then returned to the Shiner home for refreshments.

Taking part in the festivities were Becky Peterson, Claudia Uebbing, Lynn Sanders, Suzanne Ogle, Kathie Kittner, Valerie Davis and the guest of honor's brother, Jimmy.

Day Dreams? ...

Moving Walks, Express Trains Seen in Future

If a committee organized to "daydream" the Pasadena of 20 years hence has its way, Pasadena will indeed be a marvel of science.

The air will be smogless, Axial express trains will rapidly and safely transport its citizens hither and thither. Moving sidewalks will whisk shoppers from parking areas to beautiful "shopping parks."

These and many other magnificent ideas were presented by a Chamber of Commerce committee asked to envision a Pasadena of the future without regard to the practical problems of "how" and "with what funds."

The four experts who gaily planned a mythical Pasadena were Henry Dreyfuss, industrial designer; Lee DuBridge, president of Caltech; Philip S. Fogg, manufacturer, and Walter S. Young, store executive.

In the vision were numerous new hotels and apartment houses, all earthquake proof, a chain of large and small parks, museums with indoor and outdoor displays. Hi-fi would be available each evening in the parks from concealed speakers, with various types of music "daydreaming" it.

Mrs. Wheeler Will Attend Convention

Mrs. Frank G. Wheeler Jr., president of the Alpha Omicron Pi Pasadena Alumnae, is attending the international convention of her sorority at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago June 23 to 29, where the 60th anniversary of the founding of the sorority will be celebrated.

Mrs. Wheeler was an honor guest at a "send-off" luncheon recently given by Mrs. Verne W. McKinney, chairman of the national finance committee and past national president of Alpha Omicron Pi, for Southern California collegiate and alumnae members of the sorority attending the convention.

Before arriving in Chicago, Mrs. Wheeler visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Wheeler in Eureka Springs, Ark., and friends in Columbus, O.

Foothill Young Republican Club Holds Meeting

Mrs. Victor Harris, membership chairman of the Foothill Young Republicans' Club, attended the Los Angeles County Republicans Membership Rally in Los Angeles.

Johnny Grant acted as master of ceremonies for the meeting which was devoted to a membership drive for YR clubs in the county.

Governor Charles H. Russell of Nevada was principal speaker and other prominent Republican guests were Edward S. Shattuck, national Republican committeeman; Robert Finch, chairman, County Central Committee, and Charles Navarro, City Councilman.

The Foothill Young Republicans' Club now includes 62 members from Hastings Ranch, Sierra Madre, Arcadia and Pasadena, according to a report made by Richard Pember, president, at a recent meeting held in the Arcadia home of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Kelly, 656 Gloria Rd.

"The club was chartered only last fall from small group of interested Republicans," states Mr. Pember. "Since that time, a great amount of enthusiasm among residents of this area has shown itself and our membership has more than tripled."

Included in the agenda of the last regular meeting was the installation of 10 new members. Speaker for the evening was T. Bradford Trenham, formerly associated with the Los Angeles office of the California Taxpayers Organization.

A "potluck" dinner was served following the cocktail hour.

"We are still interested in increasing our membership," says President Pember. "We combine our political activities with good fellowship and welcome any young Republicans in our club."

Persons wishing to attend the July meeting may contact Mrs. Doris Harris at ELgin 5-3622.
